Can I meet with Council to discuss my application before I lodge?

Yes. Council has pre-lodgement meeting service available. At this meeting prospective applicants and Council's technical staff can discuss a development proposal prior to lodgement. This meeting is recommended to take place once a proposal plan and specific questions or issues of non-compliance have been developed.

For more information, or to request a pre-lodgement meeting with Council please consult the following Pre-Lodgement Meeting webpage.

What happens once I have lodged my application to Council?

Once an application has been lodged the Development Assessment Process will begin (see flowchart to left?). Council will determine whether your application is properly made. If it is not properly made, Council will contact you to get the additional information. Once it is properly made the application will proceed to the next parts: Referral, Information Request, Public Notification, and Decision. For more information on the Development Assessment Process, see the DA Rules.

Part 2: Referral

Some applications require referral to a Referral Agency. Question 17 of DA Form 1 lists referral triggers for an application. The DA Mapping System can be used to help identify referral triggers. A referral may be required in relation to the property or the proposed use. A referral fee may be required as part of the referral assessment.

It is the applicant's responsibility to give a copy of the application to any applicable referral agencies. The Referral Agency can request further information, suggest changes to the application, and impose conditions on the development permit. The Referral Agency may also direct Council to refuse the application.

Part 3: Information Request

Council officers will undertake a preliminary review of your application once it has been lodged. If an information request is required you will be advised in writing. You will have 3 months or a further agreed period to respond to the information requested. An information request can significantly delay the development assessment process. As such it is important to ensure your application includes as much information as possible.

If you do not provide any of the information requested Council may not be in a position to consider the application favourably.

Part 4: Public Notification

Public Notification is about informing the community that Council has received an application. An application that is Code Assessable does NOT require public notification. An application that is Impact Assessable is required to undertake public notification. The application must undergo public notification for the specified period under the Planning Act 2016 and be undertaken in accordance with the DA Rules. Briefly, these requirements include the following actions within the specified period:

- Publish a notice at least once in a local newspaper;
- Place a notice on all road frontages of the premises; and
- Give notice to all adjoining owners.

If you do not undertake public notification properly then you may be required to extend or readvertise the application. It is recommended you engage a consultant with appropriate experience to assist you.

During the public notification period, anyone can lodge a submission to Council in relation to the application. Any submitter will have third party appeal rights and may appeal to the Planning and Environment Court once a decision has been given. Submissions can also be made on Code Assessable applications regardless of whether a public notification was made; such submissions do not have a third party appeal right.

Part 5: Decision

Council will undertake an assessment of the application against the applicable planning scheme and any other applicable statutory planning instrument. Once Council has completed assessment and a decision is made, the applicant will be notified by a Notice of Decision. This will state whether the application was approved in full, approved subject to conditions, approved in part subject to conditions, or refused. As part of an approval Council may issue an Infrastructure Charges Notice. Infrastructure Charges are levied on applicable development to fund the cost of the trunk infrastructure used to support the development. The levied Infrastructure Charge will depend upon the type of development. The Infrastructure Charges must be paid prior to the Plan of Subdivision being signed or the use commencing.

What happens once I have my Notice of Decision?

Once a Notice of Decision has been given, the applicant has 20 business days to:

- Submit a request to Council to negotiate the conditions of approval; and/or
- Submit an appeal with the Planning and Environment Court against conditions of approval or a refused application.

Once the applicant's appeal period has completed, the Notice of Decision will be provided to any submitters. Submitters also have 20 business days where they can appeal to the Planning and Environment Court. It is recommended that an application to appeal be prepared by a suitably qualified consultant with knowledge of the Planning Act 2016.

When can I begin development?

You can begin development when:

- The last appeal period ends, or the last appeal ends (whichever occurs last);
- All required development permits have been obtained; and
- Any development conditions required to be complied with are met.

On your Notice of Decision take note of any currency period for your approval. The Notice of Decision will state the period of approval. An approval will end if you do not complete your development, including any conditions of approval, within the specified timeframe.
